

Theme: Gender

Student Name: John O'Boyle

Student number: B00874473

Module code: AAD011

Title: Case Study Template / Contextual Research and Understanding

Michelangelo di Lodovico Buonarroti Simoni (06/03/1475– 18/02/1564)

Michelangelo was and still is famously renowned as an incredibly talented and amazing artist. He lived during the Italian Renaissance era of art, and was a sculptor, painter, architect, as well as a poet. Michelangelo sculpted David out of marble rock and gave it an immense amount of detail such like how he sculpted the veins in Davids hands, or the pupils in his eyes as well as the perfect human body proportions and sizes that Michelangelo managed to sculpt. This piece really shows the true and magnificent figure of the male body, which is most likely why this has and will stay one of the most iconic and famous art works in both the Renaissance art form as well as art itself.

Figure one - Michelangelo, David, 1501–1504

References

Michelangelo, Britannica. Available on <https://www.britannica.com/biography/Michelangelo> [Accessed on 28th March 2023]

Michelangelo, Accademia. Available on <https://www.accademia.org/explore-museum/artworks/michelangelos-david/> [Accessed on 28th April 2023]