

My Personal Reflection

My reflection on this workshop is a positive one. I thoroughly enjoyed working on many different aspects of photography, such as cyanotype printing, working in a photography studio and learning about how lighting affects a picture and how to set up a camera to suit the surroundings.

I am happy with how much more confident I am with my ability to take my self-portrait. I had to step out of my comfort zone when posing and creating a theme unique to me and who I am. However, an area I think I could have developed is my cyanotype sample. I could have been more creative when displaying flowers or plants to create a pattern.
